Singer's curfew lifted for festival

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

THE lead singer of a band who carried out a road-rage attack on another man will have his curfew lifted so he can go to a rock festival.

Daniel Hunsdon, of band Federal Black 40, had finished a gig at Cambridge Corn Exchange when his car was blocked by a road-sweeping vehicle.

Hunsdon, of Haverhill, jumped from his car and screamed obscenities at the driver before punching him.

Despite the "repulsive" attack, a judge decided not to send Hunsdon to jail – and allowed him time off a curfew order so he can attend the Download Festival at Donington next month.

District Judge David Cooper, sitting at Bury Magistrates' Court, told Hunsdon: "For this repulsive attack on a public servant you should go straight to prison. However, having regard to what has been said about you and the fact that you do not have a long criminal record, I will make a community order instead."

The judge ordered Hunsdon, who admitted the attack, to pay his victim £250 as well as imposing the community order, with a curfew condition between 9pm and 7am for three months.

Students vote in the Lib Dems

LIBERAL Democrats narrowly beat the Conservatives to win a student poll in Haverhill.

Students at Samuel Ward Arts and Technology College held their own election day, organised by Year 9 pupils who have been looking at elections and the democratic process in their citizenship lessons.

To mark the general election, formal elections were carried out at the school with candidates debating the issues before their classmates decided who would get their vote.

The students had been watching the television debates to get some background information.

Young people of the Savvy Teen Shelter project in Saxmundham received funding for a shelter in a local park, and encouraged others to bid for funding.

Graham Newman, Portfolio Holder Children, Schools, and Young People's Services, said: "There are some tremendous benefits for young people in getting involved in these projects."

"Besides making a big difference to their communities and learning new skills, it will help teach them how to be responsible for a project from start to finish. A valuable lesson for later in life."

GRANTS of up to £5,000 are up for grabs for young people across Suffolk to run projects and make improvements in their area.

They can apply for funds from the Youth Opportunity Fund (YOF) and Youth Capital Funds (YCF).

Funding from YOF can be used to support projects and activities, whereas YCF cash can fund new equipment or building changes.

Young people aged 13-19, or up to 24 with additional needs can apply, but they will require the support of a local organisation or supporting adult.

All new applications need to be received by 5pm on May 28 and information on how to apply can be found at www.thesource.

Gas leak found in rusted pipe closes school

PUPILS got an unexpected holiday when their school was closed due to a gas leak.

The 274 pupils, aged between 4 and 9, at Place Farm Primary School in Camps Road, Haverhill, were told to stay away after the school was closed today.

The leak was discovered yesterday when gas was smelt in the school.

When engineers arrived, they discovered a leak from a section of rusted pipe.

The school was closed so that the pipe could be replaced and parents were advised to listen to local radio to find out whether it would re-open tomorrow.

The leak was not connected to work going on at

Dog owner bitten

A DOG owner needed hospital treatment after he was bitten on the leg while trying to stop his labrador being attacked by a young rottweiler. Police are appealing for information about the incident, which happened on wasteland at Millfields Way, Haverhill, at around 6.45pm on Monday. The victim was walking his labrador when a young rottweiler approached and injured the labrador. The victim tried to separate the dogs and was bitten. The female owner of the rottweiler took the dog away and the victim went to Addenbrooke's Hospital for treatment. She is described as in her late 50s or early 60s, of slim build with grey/brown hair and was smartly dressed. Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Kevin Roit at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100.

Raids on workshops

TWO break-ins at workshops in Haverhill on the same night are being linked by police.

The first burglary was at Sturmer Road between 6.45pm last Friday and 7.30am on Saturday, when offenders broke into a portable building and a workshop and stole a parcel shelf containing speakers and a subwoofer. In the second incident at Piperell Way between 10.15pm last Friday and 8.25am on Saturday, offenders broke into a workshop and office and stole cash and mechanics equipment. Calls in relation to these incidents should be made to Sgt Sarah Bartley at the Haverhill Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100.

Fence damaged again

VANDALS have damaged fencing again around a new football stadium being built at Haverhill.

A section of fencing around the football ground site at Chalkstone Way, Haverhill, was damaged between 11.10pm and 11.30pm on Monday, May 3. A group of three suspicious white men were seen nearby, one wearing a beanie hat and another wore a brown jacket and spoke with a New Zealand accent.

Previous incidents of damage to the fence have been reported to police earlier in the year. Calls should be made to Pc Richard Baker at Haverhill police on (01284) 774100.

Air rifle leads to fine

CARRYING a loaded air rifle at Livermere Lakes, Great Livermere, resulted in a £135 fine for a Haverhill man.

Steven Morris, aged 23, of Kirtling Place, admitted the charge when he appeared before magistrates at Bury St Edmunds on Tuesday. He was jointly charged with Joshua Day, aged 18, of Croxton Road, Thetford, who received the same fine, and both were also ordered to pay £70 costs and a £15 victim surcharge.

Magistrates ordered the forfeiture and destruction of the air rifles.

A CHANGE of use application of land for the storage of caravans at Willow Farm, Sturmer Road, Haverhill, has been submitted to St Edmundsbury Borough Council by M & M Leisure.

the school to build new classes to house extra pupils who will arrive when the town's middle schools close next year.

Workmen at the site on the field next to the main school building continued working.

Church is all lit up

AFTER more than a decade of campaigning, a parish church has finally been lit against the night sky for the first time.

New floodlights at St Mary's church in Haverhill town centre were officially switched on by Pauline Trebble, wife of the late town mayor Cllr Ted Trebble, who led the campaign by Haverhill Town Council to get the church floodlit. The Monday night switching on ceremony was attended by current town mayor, Elaine McManus, as well as mayor of St Edmundsbury, Cllr Patsy Warby.

The Rev Ian Finn, St Mary's parish priest, said he had only been waiting for three years for the project to come to fruition, but understood it had been a longer wait for the town of at least 10 years. He hoped that the lights would make the church a visual centrepiece in the town and emphasise its strong spiritual role in the community.

Cllr McManus said the lights would be dedicated to Cllr Trebble, whose wish it had been to see them provided. She thanked Cllr Karen Richardson, who had taken over the project after Cllr Trebble's death in 2008, Mr Finn, the church diocese, town councillors and contractors who had all worked together on the scheme.

She said: "This has been a long time coming and we hope it will be a visual reminder of St Mary's place at the heart of our town's history and its future."

Haverhill Town Council has funded the scheme, costing between £10,000 and £12,000, which has also been subsidised by the contractors and suppliers.

The first campaign at St Mary's Church started before 2000, led by the town council, and former parish priest the Rev Edmund Betts also tried to get floodlights installed.

Teens to get advice on firework dangers

FIVE teenagers will receive safety advice at their local fire station after a spate of incidents involving fireworks.

The anti-social behaviour over the past 10 days in Haverhill has prompted police to warn people in the town not to play with fireworks.

Police officers agreed a community resolution to the problem with the five youngsters all aged under 18.

They must attend the fire station for advice about the dangers of fireworks to themselves and others. If they do not attend, they could face prosecution.

Police have received around 50 calls from the public since Wednesday, April 28, reporting youths throwing or setting off fireworks or bird scarers, mostly in the evenings or early mornings.

Damage has been caused to a telephone box and bins when lit

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

fireworks have been placed inside, and the noise has caused considerable distress to many residents, particularly the elderly and vulnerable.

Inspector Chris Galley said: "It was felt by the officer concerned that this was the best way of dealing with this.

"It is not something we do with prolific offenders, but with young people it can be the most appropriate way of handling it and avoids them getting into the criminal justice system. We are just trying to stop them doing it again.

"Anyone playing with fireworks is putting themselves and others in danger. It is fortunate that no-one has been injured by a firework going off.

"A small amount of damage has been caused by fireworks being set off, and should a fire start from a lit firework this could have even bigger consequences.

"Fireworks should only be used by adults and in a controlled environment.

"It is an offence for a person under the age of 18 to possess outdoor fireworks, and it is also illegal for fireworks to be used after 11pm at night.

"Those people who are setting off fireworks in Haverhill are at the very least causing a nuisance to other people and such anti-social behaviour will not be tolerated.

"I want everyone to feel safe and be safe in Haverhill. I would encourage anyone with any information about the supply and illegal use of fireworks in the town to contact the Safer Neighbourhood Team."

Calls should be made to Suffolk police on (01473) 613500.

Curfew lifted for rock festival

■ From Page 1

He agreed that the curfew could be lifted from June 8-15 so Hunsdon, 31, could take his wife and children to the festival.

The court heard that Hunsdon, who also works as a painter and decorator, had two convictions for drink-driving.

Tess James, prosecuting, said the offence had happened as Hunsdon was on his way to his home in Crowland Road after a gig on March 5.

The vehicle, driven by his wife, came up to a traffic-calming measure close to his home. The sweeper was moving in the opposite direction and 'blocked' the route.

Gestures were made from both vehicles and Hunsdon got out and started to shout and swear at the road sweeper driver, Francis Smith.

Mr Smith said Hunsdon smelt of alcohol and became more abusive, pushing him and clenching his fists.

Hunsdon then punched him on the side of the head and wrestled him to the ground – leaving his victim with a split lip, bruising and swelling around his eye.

Kieron Davies, for Hunsdon, said his client's wife had been driving the car and due to a misunderstanding when she believed the road sweeper was stationary, had failed to give priority to it.

Federal Black 40 are a local band with four members – based around the Cambridge, Haverhill, Newmarket and Godmanchester area.

Their gig on March 5 at the Corn Exchange was set to be a re-launch for the band after a lengthy break from live gigs.

Aggressive: Daniel Hunsdon attacked the driver of a road-sweeper.

Boy forced to withdraw cash

A 12-YEAR-OLD boy was robbed by a man who forced him to withdraw money at a cash point.

The robbery happened at High Street, Haverhill, between 4.30pm and 4.40pm last Wednesday, when the man approached the boy outside a bank and demanded money. The boy refused, so the man took a bank card from the boy's hand, put it into a cash machine and made threats, demanding the PIN.

The boy gave the PIN, the man withdrew a quantity of cash and then ran off to a small white van parked outside a pub. The man is described as being of mixed race, with dark hair and wearing a brown jacket and blue jeans.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to DC Rachel Francis at West Suffolk CID on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 55 111.

Girl, 11, followed

AN 11-year-old girl reported being followed by a man in a white van while she was out walking in Haverhill.

The incident happened at Downton Drive between 8.10am and 8.35am on Tuesday.

The man was white, in his 30s, of medium build with short dark hair and wearing a dark blue jacket and ripped jeans. Police want to speak to the man and the van driver as they may have had legitimate reasons to be in the area.

Calls in relation to this incident should be made to Pc Ruth Horton at the St Edmundsbury Rural South Safer Neighbourhood Team on (01284) 774100 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

Young hopeful holds onto seat for Tories

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

CONSERVATIVE Matthew Hancock swept to victory in the West Suffolk constituency last week.

The 31-year-old former chief of staff to Shadow Chancellor George Osborne increased the majority of former MP Richard Spring, who did not seek re-election, by more than 4,000.

The Labour vote collapsed with candidate Ohid Ahmed trailing in third place behind the Liberal Democrats' Belinda Brooks-Gordon.

A victorious Mr Hancock claimed a 14.2 per cent swing away from Labour and pointed out he had polled more than half the votes cast.

He said: "A number of people I spoke to on the doorsteps said what a superb MP Richard Spring was. It's incredible to have increased the majority he had in the 2005 election."

"Now I want to get cracking on the things we need to do locally."

In his acceptance speech he promised to "work tirelessly" for the constituency.

Top tally for Tories: counting gets under way to fill the West Suffolk seat.

Mr Hancock is married to Martha and has a daughter and a son, with his family already settled in a new home at Thurlow.

Speaking about the formation of this week's coalition Government, the country's first in 65 years, he said: "Having listened to many, many people in Haverhill over the past weeks and months, I know how important it is that we start to turn our country around and restore trust in politics.

"I am absolutely delighted that David Cameron is now behind the door of Number 10 and can now form a Government.

"It is time for us to start along the long road to the economic recovery. I am looking forward to working hard for everyone in Haverhill, no matter how they voted last week."

Labour candidate Mr Ahmed, who had earlier admitted he was "exhausted" after fighting a campaign to retain his seat on Tower Hamlets council in east London as well as the Parliamentary campaign in West Suffolk, did not comment after the result.

Dr Brooks-Gordon, a Cambridgeshire councillor, said she was proud of the campaign in which the Liberal Democrats had recruited more members in the constituency.

"I think in some ways democracy has been the winner of this election and people have agreed there is a need for a change in the electoral system," she said.

She added West Suffolk was a microcosm of the national political picture.

Ian Smith, the UKIP candidate who was fighting his third general election, said he was pleased to have increased his percentage share of the votes.

The result had originally been expected at about 1.30am, but it was delayed by more than an hour after a discrepancy was discovered between the original number of verified votes cast at 48,130 and the final total of 48,170.

She said: "I did not even realise my postal vote had not come until a few days before the election and then I kept thinking it would come in time.

"I wondered if the same thing had happened to other people in Haverhill. I was quite angry not to be able to vote and you would think if the same thing had happened before they would make sure it did not happen again.

"I have always voted because I say if you don't vote you cannot moan about them. There was no way that I could get to Mildenhall and I was just very cross that they had taken my vote away.

"I hope there will be another election soon, and I certainly won't be asking for a postal vote."

A spokesman for Forest Heath District Council said Mrs Boulton's vote had been posted on April 26 and the post office had been asked to carry out an investigation as to why it had not arrived.

No other complaints had been received about postal votes not arriving for the current election.

He said if Mrs Boulter had contacted the election office sooner, it would have been possible for her to still vote.

'I want to build on Spring's legacy'

HAVERHILL'S new MP admits he has some big shoes to fill following the departure of his predecessor, Richard Spring, but says he is up to the challenge.

He told the Weekly News: "Over the past weeks and months I have spoken to hundreds of people, in every part of Haverhill, about the issues facing the town, about the need to change our country, and also about the fantastic work that Richard Spring did here as MP."

"I can't count the number of doors I knocked on behind which someone told me that I have big shoes to fill. I know how much Richard Spring did for Haverhill, and I want to continue that work."

"Haverhill is a great place to live, and a town that's on the up. Martha and I live in Thurlow, just a few miles away, and love to come to the market on a Friday or Saturday."

"I'm delighted there are new amenities recently opened, like the cinema, and look forward to more – like the new football facilities I visited last month, and hope will be open very soon."

"But more than the physical improvements is a sense that this is a town that's going places. Where else is the town centre improving, not diminishing? How many towns can boast companies exporting to the Chinese?"

"Of course there are

to ensure the recent improvement in our schools is maintained.

"I want to work with the public, with councillors, and in Westminster, for everyone in the constituency – no matter what their political views are. I will be open and accessible, work hard, and hold surgeries in Haverhill. Although I can't promise to solve every problem, I will work for you. No issue is too small."

"It was humbling that so many people in Haverhill and beyond put their trust in me and their cross in the Conservative box at the election."

"I hope that over the months and years ahead I can repay the trust you have put in me."

Shows shed light on autism

Sir, Though your newspaper I would like to thank Channel 4 and BBC 3 for the programs they have put on about autism. If your readers had seen the programmes on TV, they would have seen that parents were having problems not only getting help, but for the people out there to recognise the problems the parents have with children who have autism.

Parents in Haverhill do not get the help they need for children with autism. They try all different agencies such as the child development centre in Bury St Edmunds, but they only work part-time. Child and Adolescent Mental Health Services says autism is not in its criteria and social services say children with autism who go to mainstream schools do not fit their criteria either.

Children with autism suffer from these difficulties:

- Difficulties with social interaction – being unaware of what's socially appropriate, finding chatting or small talk difficult and not socialising much. People with autism may appear uninterested in others and find it very difficult to develop friendships and relate to others, while those with Asperger syndrome are more likely to enjoy or want to develop social contacts and find mixing very difficult;
- Problems with verbal and non-verbal communication – those affected may be able to speak fluently or, more commonly in autism, may be unable to speak at all. There may also be difficulties understanding gestures, body language, facial expressions and tone of voice, making it difficult to judge or understand the reactions of those they are talking to, or to empathise with people's feelings. As a result they may unintentionally appear insensitive or rude to others. They may also take others' comments very literally, and so misunderstand jokes, metaphors or colloquialisms;
- Lack of imagination and creative play – such as not enjoying or taking part in role-play games. They may also find it difficult to grapple with abstract ideas. There may be overriding obsessions with objects, interests or routines which tend to interfere further with building social relationships (this is known as stereotyped or repetitive behaviour).

These behavioural difficulties can cause a great deal of stress for members of the family.

Picture: 622484.

Last week's Memories photograph, from our archives, showed boxing legend Dave Boy Green handing over the keys to members of the Haverhill Boxing Club. It was taken in January, 1981.

The picture brought back memories for Jean Clark, whose late husband, Ken, received the keys.

Mr Clark, who died nine years ago, was a founder member of Haverhill Boxing Club and the vehicle was used to take youngsters from the club around to various venues. Mrs Clark did not recognise Steve Welsh, who is in the centre of the picture, but did remember that it was taken outside the Bull pub.

She knew several of those in the background, including Gordon who used to run the Bull pub, John Doree and Lee Peters. She said: "I was very surprised to see it. I don't know exactly when it was taken, but it must have been quite a few years ago."

Steve Botten, of Haverhill, also recognised Mr Clark and Dave Boy Green, but did not know what the occasion was.

Plate Recognition) system and this would deter vehicles from using the High Street at the times when it is closed and collate the results of misuse and fine drivers.

2. Bring back a traffic warden to patrol the town for illegal vehicles.
3. Police should be issuing parking tickets to illegal vehicle owners who misuse the High Street because, at the moment, everyone is breaking the law.

4. Plant trees and shrub beds along the route of the High Street to deter motorists from parking on the pavements and on double yellow lines.

And as a last resort, shut the High Street to all road users and make it a full pedestrian zone. It works in other towns, why not here?

I spoke to one of my local town councillors about these points and the police. What kind of help do you think I got? None!

Bus drivers not the same today

Sir, I do not know if Burtons employ ex-racing drivers on their service to Bury St Edmunds, but this is the impression I get when I travel on this service.

Today I caught the 11.20am from Kedington and we got under way and there was a rattling noise. The driver stopped and had a look and said a pipe had fallen off and sent for the fitter to fix it.

We finally got under way and the driver went tearing round the country lanes. Everyone had to hold onto their seats.

I tried to fasten my seat belt, but it was stuck so I could not.

I was a bus driver nearly 40 years ago and if I had driven my bus like that I would have been sacked.

Officers and cameras catch up with speeders

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

MORE than 900 motorists were caught speeding in Suffolk during a week-long speed enforcement campaign.

The European Traffic Police Network campaign, which ran from April 26 to May 2, saw a county-wide increase in checks and enforcement as officers clamped down on those driving at excessive speeds.

A total of 807 people were caught by officers and safety cameras, and a further 140 were caught by fixed cameras.

In a similar campaign during the same time last year, 719 motorists were caught speeding.

Chief Inspector Adrian Dawson, head of roads policing for Suffolk, said: "It is always disappointing that so many drivers have failed to listen to our warnings.

"There is never an excuse for flouting the speed limit and drivers need to realise the impact driving at excessive speeds can have. Suffolk police will continue to target issues of speed throughout the year.

"There were 42 people killed on Suffolk's roads last year and the role speed plays in both fatal and serious road traffic collisions cannot be underestimated.

"During this campaign we have tried to educate those who speed through enforcement. It is a very simple message but a very important one – speed kills – and by targeting those who are speeding we hope we can save lives."

Careers advice for members

MEMBERS of Haverhill's Young Chamber got some top careers tips from executives of telecoms giant BT at a recent visit to Ipswich.

Students from both Samuel Ward Arts and Technology and Castle Manor Business and Enterprise colleges learned key skills to help them with their future careers when they attended an event sponsored by BT and Ipswich University Campus Suffolk (UCS).

Members of the young chamber were invited to BT's base in Ipswich, where they met Phil Lennard, director of education, and several members of the telecoms team. Managing director Phil Dance also gave a short talk.

The site opened in 1975 and now employs around 4,000 research and development people from BT and its parent companies.

The group heard a talk about the research carried out at BT Adastral Park, learned about apprenticeships and the company's graduate programme, the importance of CVs and how to conduct a successful interview.

The students also learned about the benefits of working for a large organisation and went on to complete a few team-building exercises.

The second half of the day was spent at Ipswich UCS where young chamber members were shown around the Waterfront building, on Ipswich's water front. Opened in 2008, it was the first dedicated teaching, learning and social space for UCS.

The

site opened in 1975 and now employs around 4,000 research and development people from BT and its parent companies.

They were given a presentation by six event and tourism students and were shown around the building – including new student accommodation, which proved to be the highlight of the trip for some students.

Debbie Tabrar, young chamber co-ordinator, said:

"The students all reported back on their marvellous day and had lots of news to bring back to their schools."

David's reward for an amazing 75 donations

A BLOOD donor from Haverhill, who has clocked up 75 donations, was one of a group of donors honoured for their life-saving contributions at Ipswich Town Football Club.

David Harrison, of Burton Road, received a crystal plate to mark his 75th contribution, along with 52 other dedicated donors honoured by NHS Blood and Transplant (NHSBT) at the awards ceremony.

It was held to honour long-serving blood donors from Essex and Suffolk who have donated blood on at least 75 occasions. Five of the life-savers were commended for reaching the milestone of 100 donations.

A NHSBT spokesman said the awards were a way of recognising the commitment that long serving blood donors give to saving the lives of others.

He said: "Each blood donation can potentially save the lives of up to three people, so every donor at the ceremony could lay claim to saving more than 225 lives.

"Added together, the honoured donors have given more than 3,400 pints of blood, that's over 425 gallons, a truly remarkable achievement."

Guest speaker Elsa Hunter, from Shoeburyness, suffered with myelodysplastic syndrome (MDS), a bone marrow disease and, over three years of treatment, received numerous blood transfusions.

She was joined by Nisa Karia, from Ipswich, who has Thalassaemia major and needs regular blood transfusions.

Derek Carr, lead donor relations manager at NHSBT, said: "Only 3 per cent of donors reach their 75th donation, while less than 3 per cent make it to 100 donations. We are proud and honoured to reward these incredible people who have given blood so many times over the years."

Anyone aged 17-65, weighing more than 50kg and in good general health, can become a blood donor. There is no upper age limit for donors who have donated in the last two years.

To book an appointment, call 0300 123 23 23 or visit www.blood.co.uk

Objections fail to halt takeaway bid

ANOTHER hot food takeaway outlet will be built in a residential area, despite protests from homeowners and Haverhill Town Council.

Change of use consent from retail to hot food takeaway for a shop in Appleacre Road was given the go-ahead by St Edmundsbury Borough Council's development control committee last week.

The shop adjoins the existing

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

Domino Pizza outlet, which also provoked objections from local residents before it opened.

A report to the committee said no complaints had been received about the operation of the pizza takeaway in the area.

But Haverhill Town Council still objected to the plan, citing concerns about noise, odour and additional traffic.

Neighbours also said they already suffered from smells and litter generated by Domino Pizza, as well as cars racing up and down the road.

They also pointed out that they had originally been assured that the shops would be used for purely retail use, and not fast food takeaways.

Planning consent was granted subject to conditions including that it does not open before 9am and is closed by 11pm.

Restrictions were also placed on delivery times.

Footie contest for pre-school

A FIVE-A-SIDE football tournament, which proved to be a great success last year, will be repeated this year to raise money for charity. Last year's fundraiser was held at Kedington to help equip the home of Alfie Long, a village youngster with disabilities.

This year's event will take place at the Great Meadow, off Arms Lane, on Saturday, May 29, from 9.30am. Money raised will go towards the village's Ketton Early Birds pre-school group for a garden canopy.

Teams with players aged 16 or over can get entry forms from the Barnardston Arms pub or ring Anita Gatt on 07810 301212.

Wedding fair is sure to be bliss

AS the weather gets warmer it's a sure-fire signal that wedding season is just around the corner.

For those of you in the midst of planning your summer ceremony, or for anyone thinking of tying the knot next year, the Haverhill wedding and beauty event, sponsored by C & B Beautiful and in association with McCormack Wedding Photography, is sure to help provide inspiration and help you with those all-important decisions.

Lyndsey McCormack, event organiser, who also works at C & B Beautiful, says: "We do regular wedding fairs at C & B Beautiful, so we thought, 'why not run our own?'"

Holding their own event in Haverhill is proving a great opportunity to get local businesses together and provide an informative, exciting and varied event for local people to attend without having to travel great distances, as well as strengthening the community of the growing town.

"Haverhill is getting bigger and better," Lyndsey continues. "We wanted to get all local businesses together to showcase their products and services. Now, all in all, we've got around 23/24 businesses involved. I know it's going to be a really big success."

The event will be held at the Haverhill Arts Centre from 11am until 4pm on May 23. As well as C & B Beautiful and McCormack Wedding Photography, companies taking part include Tony Strowger (jewellers), Enigma hairdressers, Fiona's Florists, The Gallery, Brook's Car Hire, Capri wedding videos, Cakes by Dee, Prime Time entertainment and many more.

"We've also got Amanda Julia Couture who'll be doing a fashion show and Figleaves are going to be included too, with lingerie and honeymoon swimwear. The fashion shows will be at 12.30pm and 2.30pm.

"We've got Gourmet Knights there doing buffet-style food to try, and we'd also like to say a special thanks to Fionas for her beautiful flowers, as well as to Amanda Julia Couture."

As well as targeting brides and grooms-to-be, the event will also provide beauty advice and treatments for anyone who wants to stop by. C & B Beautiful will be located downstairs at the Arts Centre, where Lyndsey and the team will be offering mini-treatments and mini-makeovers.

"We do a lot of bridal make-up, and offer Clarins products, including the Clarins Everlasting make-up which lasts 12 hours and is perfect for weddings. But because it's a beauty event too, it means that anyone can come along. There will be discounts on selected products on the day, as well as goodie bags."

She said: "I am delighted to be appointed diocesan director of education. It is an exciting time. Church schools represent one-quarter of the schools in Suffolk and I look forward to playing my part in ensuring continuing high standards and opportunities for all our young people."

'Delighted': new diocesan director of education, Jane Sheat.

Nicholas Edgell, diocesan secretary, said: "We welcome Jane at a time when her special skills and knowledge are particularly pertinent.

"The issues of school organisation, review and the possible developments in the 0-19 agenda are key for Suffolk schools at present and going forward."

Jane will begin work on August 1, when she takes over the reins from the retiring Archdeacon John Cox.

Training to bring back old nurses

FORMER nurses thinking of restarting their careers are being offered a golden opportunity to update their clinical skills.

West Suffolk Hospital is working with University Campus Suffolk to offer a 15-week "return to professional practice" course to former nurses who left the profession more than three years ago.

Starting in September, the programme will help students meet the requirements needed to rejoin the Nursing and Midwifery Council (NMC) register and become eligible to again work as a nurse in the UK.

The course will also update the students on recent nursing advances and changes in working practice.

Nichole Day, executive chief nurse at the Bury St Edmunds hospital, said: "We are really pleased to be able to offer qualified and experienced nurses this helping hand back into the profession.

"The course offers anyone who is considering returning to practice a fantastic opportunity.

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

unity to combine study with clinical practice. It will build on their existing skills and knowledge by bringing them up-to-date with any changes which have taken place while they have been away from the profession, and will also give them the chance to register with the NMC once more.

"Lots more information about this exciting opportunity will be available during an open morning taking place next week, and staff from both the hospital and UCS will also be on hand to answer any questions which people may have.

"We would encourage anyone interested in getting back into nursing to come along to find out more."

The open event takes place tomorrow between 10am and noon in the education centre at the rear of the hospital site.

For more information, contact Ian Coe, project facilitator, on (01284) 712750, or Claire Scott, HR manager, on (01284) 712918.

Residents 'embrace' recycling

"WASH 'EM, squash 'em and recycle 'em" is now the routine in many Haverhill homes as residents take advantage of the improved recycling facilities for cardboard-based food and drink cartons.

There are now 27 carton banks in supermarket car parks and other sites across Suffolk, as well as recycling points at all 18 household waste recycling centres.

In the past year, more than 40 tonnes of the cartons have been diverted from landfill - that's the carbon equivalent of removing 23 cars from our roads for a year.

Rob Cole, Suffolk waste partnership support manager, said: "Now with 45 possible carton recycling points, the results speak for themselves. I'm delighted that the residents have embraced this scheme and are helping contribute to the 'Suffolk - creating the greenest county' initiative."

Time for a brew to help charity

TEA lovers are invited to brew up this summer and join in a massive drive to help boost the funds of a charity.

Residents across Suffolk will be holding Blooming Great Tea Parties to raise funds for Marie Curie Cancer Care. The parties can be held anywhere, anytime between June 12 and July 12.

All the money raised will help more Marie Curie nurses to provide free care to patients with terminal cancer and other illnesses in the comfort of their own homes.

Jackie Tanfield, Marie Curie nurse, said: "We'd like to invite everyone to our Blooming Great Tea Party to help raise funds for Marie Curie Cancer Care. It's going to be a fantastic event and a great way to get together with friends, old and new."

"The more money we raise, the more free care Marie Curie nurses can provide to people with a terminal illness."

Jackie's tea party is part of many others that are taking place across the country as part of the campaign, which hopes to raise £1 million for the charity.

To hold your own tea party, call 08700 340 040 or visit www.mariecurie.org.uk/teaparty for a free Blooming Great Tea Party fund-raising pack.

To get help from the Marie Curie nursing Service, talk to your GP, district nurse or discharge nurse.

Will you help raise money for hospice?

SOLICITORS in Haverhill and Clare have again backed a scheme which last year raised around £26,000 for St Nicholas Hospice Care.

The hospice's Wills Weeks campaign, which runs through June, will see solicitors draw up wills in return for a suitable donation to the charity.

Solicitors from Haverhill-based Adams Harrison and Wayman & Long in Clare, have signed up and will be participating for one week during the month-long event.

Last year, 181 people took advantage of the offer and raised more than £25,000.

Jan Brownfoot, who has previously taken advantage of the scheme, said: "This is a great way to make a will at a reasonable cost while raising thousands for such a worthwhile charity as the hospice.

"People often underestimate the importance of making a will - if you die without one, your money and possession may not be distributed in the way you would have wished."

Margaret Lee, the hospice's legacy officer, said: "We are delighted so many solicitors are giving their time for free to help the hospice.

"We sincerely hope that people taking part in the scheme will give an appropriate donation that acknowledges this generous support.

"Getting a will drafted protects your family and gives everyone peace of mind."

Those wanting to take up the offer should contact the solicitors to organise a suitable date and time.

Phone Adams Harrison for appointments between June 15 and 22, on (01440) 702485.

Clare-based Wayman & Long will take part from June 22 to 30. Phone them on (01787) 277 375.

Talented dancers take home top titles

YOUNG dancers travelled from Haverhill to make their mark at two regional heats in Suffolk and Kent - and qualify for the Imperial Society of Teachers of Dance (ISTD) national grand finals in October.

The disco freestyle and rock 'n' roll festivals, organised by the ISTD, saw 40 dancers from Lane Dance Centres take part in more than 60 events, bringing home 48 awards.

Marion Lane, director of the centres, said: "It takes hard work and discipline to master all the different styles and our young dancers have proved they've got what it takes."

Stars performers were all the team members of Totally Gaga, who won the under 12s beginner section and Team Starstruck, which won the under 16s intermediate section at both events.

Other winners and finalists from the area were Kirsty Webb, Hayley Dunn, Brogan Walford, Annabel

Bianchi, Lakeshia and Cameron Kicks, Emma Bundy, Emily Cummings, Emma Hayes, Nicola and Amy Sellers, Megan Cracknell, Jessica Christie, Rhiannon Short, Sheena Janssen, Katie Lacom, Daisy Batty, Kate Burnham, Georgie Kemp, Annie Mudway and many more.

Ronnie Walford, principal of the Haverhill centre, was delighted with the results. She said: "We have many talented dancers in Haverhill who have danced amazingly in their regional competition this year, in all their dance genres, and also recently in their examinations in March. They have all shown great promise for the future which I'm very proud of."

The school is now looking forward to more ISTD competitions and examinations in disco freestyle, rock 'n' roll, modern ballroom, Latin American and classical sequence during May and June.

Newspaper chief spreads message

NEWSPAPER Society president David Fordham this week finished a tour of 40 publishing centres across the UK.

Mr Fordham, who is chief executive of the Weekly News publisher, Iliffe News and Media, has travelled the length and breadth of the UK to investigate the changing state of local newspapers.

Mr Fordham, who completed his tour during Local Newspaper Week, said: "It's interesting to see how the different centres are coping with these changes and the different initiatives they are taking.

"What I'm trying to do is to take round a positive attitude about the future for regional press. You can't help but notice that there have been lots of commercial initiatives."

He added: "Like many local businesses, local papers have had a tough time in the past two years. Many people became worried that the voice of their local community for generations might be silenced because of economic difficulties."

Grand tour: chief executive of Iliffe News and Media and president of the Newspaper Society, David Fordham, right, with Weekly News editor, Nigel Brookes, and deputy editor Daniel Newell, left.

"But despite the deepest advertising recession in living memory and fierce competition from other media – even from local councils' own publications – local papers have survived to fight another day."

"The local paper – in print or online – plays a vital role in any lively local community. It is a trusted source of news, a familiar guiding hand and the bedrock of local democracy."

Mr Fordham's tour has raised more than £5,000 for charities, including Teenage Cancer Trust, Macmillan nurses and the Cambridge News community fund, Press Relief, thanks to contributions from local newspapers.

Mr Fordham's travel costs and expenses have been met by sponsors MediaForce and Clacksons.

Home gets go-ahead despite safety fears

REVISED plans for a new home in Kedington have been approved, despite continuing objections from the parish council which says it is too big for the village.

The one-and-a-half storey dwelling was given the green light by St Edmundsbury Borough Council's development control committee last week.

Plans for the home also feature an integrated garage next to Serena House in Dash End. Plans had previously been approved for a two-and-a-half storey house with a garage at the side.

Kedington Parish Council objected to the design and its impact on highway safety. It also raised concerns about the gradient of the driveway.

But the report to the committee said the Highway Authority believed the plan would not compromise safety and would not damage a tree on the site, which was subject to a tree preservation order.

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A parish council spokesman said: "The council still feels this new building is unacceptable."

Councillors feel the roof size on the revised scheme is larger than the last proposal and not sympathetic with surroundings in this part of the village. It seems access will still be a problem."

The planning officer's report said despite the 7.9m height of the home, it would not be out of keeping in relation to the size of neighbouring Serena House and would not detract from the character of the lane and the countryside beyond.

The Gross rate is the contractual rate of interest payable before deduction of income tax at the rate specified by law (currently 20%).

The Net rate is the rate paid after income tax has been deducted (currently 20%).

The Annual Equivalent Rate (AER) is a notional rate which illustrates what the gross interest rate would be if interest was paid and added to the account annually. AERs on an account which pays monthly interest assumes interest is added to the account at the end of each month during the year. In practice, the option to have interest added in this way is not available on our 90 Day Notice monthly interest option.

The Tax-free rate is the contractual rate of interest payable where interest is exempt from income tax.

All the above rates are variable. Interest will be paid at the net rate after the appropriate rate of income tax (currently 20%) has been deducted, or gross on receipt of the required declaration form. Where interest is paid net, the income tax may be reclaimed if the amount deducted exceeds the investor's tax liability. Higher rate taxpayers will have to pay the extra due (the difference between tax deducted at 20% and the higher rate of 40%).

Tax treatment and interest rate payable will depend on individual circumstances and may change in the future. Full terms and conditions are available from all our branches.

Seasonal treats galore with top theatre line-up

SUPER sleuths should get their magnifying glasses at the ready as The Agatha Christie Theatre Company present Witness for the Prosecution (May 31-June 5).

The drama unfolds as the murder of the elderly Emily French sees the finger of blame pointed firmly at her nephew, Leonard. As a raft of characters come forward to testify, the audience is left guessing whether Leonard will be set free or declared guilty. Starring Mark Wynter and Denis Lill, it's bound to be a gripping yarn.

National treasure Simon Callow returns to the Arts Theatre in Shakespeare: The Man From Stratford (June 23-26), tracking down the real William Shakespeare in this new play written by Bard expert Jonathan Bate. The comedy brings to life both the man and many of his characters, from lovers and kings to soldiers and clowns.

More Shakespeare is on the menu later in the summer courtesy of the internationally renowned Shakespeare's Globe, bringing to life The Comedy of Errors and A Midsummer Night's Dream, on an Elizabethan-inspired stage in the Master's Garden of Emmanuel College, (July 13-18 and August 10-15). Expect a high-energy, stripped back version of the two classic tales.

There is comedy in abundance, from Alan Ayckbourn's If I Were You (June 7-12), which sees an unhappily married couple switch bodies, setting off a hilarious train of events, to Stop

Cheeky! above, Calendar Girls returns to Cambridge Arts Theatre later this year, along with two plays by

Messing About (May 17-22), which see English Touring Opera present classics The Marriage of Figaro, Don Pasquale and A Midsummer Night's Dream (May 25-29). And Jaleo Flamenco are also sure to thrill with a potent cocktail of explosive footwork, virtuoso guitar playing and percussive handclapping from southern Spain (June 20-21).

Children have plenty to smile about as Birmingham Stage Company recreate Roald Dahl's amazing tale George's Marvellous Medicine in a brand new adaptation (July 5-10), while much-loved characters Little Nutbrown Hare and Big Nutbrown Hare leap off the page with a song, game and laughter-filled production of Guess How Much I Love You (July 19-22).

If music and dance is more your thing, check out celebrated jazz artist Stacey Kent (Sunday), who will be performing hits from her six best-selling albums, or book your seat to some autumn treats in store too, including Carrie's War, the heart-warming tale of a young girl and her brother evacuated to the Welsh valleys during the war, starring Hannah Waterman and Brigit Forsyth, (September 7-11) plus the return of Arts Theatre favourites Penelope Keith and Peter Bowles in The Rivals (October 11-16).

And sure to be THE season highlight later in the year will be the welcome return of the global hit show Calendar Girls (October 18-23). Starring Lynda Bellingham and Ruth Madoc, the quirky, poignant and hilarious show, following a group of women who bare all for charity, is sure to be a sell out success.

Music in the park

AN OUTDOOR concert in historic parkland will raise money for a village church.

The third Music in the Park event, at Chippenham Park, on June 12, will feature Ely Sinfonia and will end with a proms-style finale with fireworks.

The orchestra will be led by Steve Bingham and will include soprano Elizabeth Drury, counter tenor Robert Cross and baritone Andrew De Silva.

The Rev Michael Banyard said: "This will be our third event. It is truly professional and a great feat for our volunteers to organise.

"Each time more than 1,000 people have enjoyed their picnic and fabulous live music in splendid parkland."

Full details are at www.musicinthepark.co.uk and tickets, £16.50 each, are available on-line or from La Hogue farm shop in Chippenham.

Have a ball with debut act and Blues Brothers

LOCAL playwright David Hart's first play, To All Intents and Purposes, forms part of three one-act plays of mystery and imagination at Haverhill Arts Centre.

The play centres around Arless, who just wants to be left alone, but has stumbled into a society of suspicion, interrogation, therapy and a frightening system of popular justice.

Monkey's Paw, by Louis Parker and WW Jacobs, is a supernatural tale where the perils of ambition lie at its heart. A family is granted three wishes, all of which come true but in a macabre and unexpected way.

Finally, Cobblers' Ball, by Jim Spernick, is a mock Victorian melodrama with a difference. Be prepared for interplay of villainy with innocence, sweetness with corruption – with a twist in the tale!

The plays, performed by Haverhill theatre group Centre Stage, run from tonight until Saturday at 7.30pm.

■ Hats and dark glasses are the order of the day when The Briefcase Blues Brothers arrive at the arts centre on Friday, May 21, at 7.30pm.

Music fans will revel in the great soul and rhythm and blues, aficionados of the Blues Brothers will be delighted by the high-octane portrayal of the larger-than-life characters, and kids will love the sheer energy of this all-singing, all-dancing show.

■ The arts centre's cinema welcomes Invictus (12a) next week. It offers a glimpse into the life of one of the 20th century's most influential leaders, based on real events surrounding the 1995 Rugby World Cup in South Africa. Morgan Freeman stars as Nelson Mandela, attempting to unite the nation by rallying around his team of underdogs.

It screens on Monday at 1.30pm and Tuesday at 7.45pm.

■ The Reel Culture film on Wednesday will be Sex & Drugs & Rock & Roll (15). It stars Andy Serkis, who gives an outstanding performance as Ian Dury, of The Blockheads, in this emotionally charged family drama, documenting Dury's struggle in an increasingly frenzied storm of fame.

■ On Thursday, May 20, Leonardo DiCaprio stars in Shutter Island (15). US marshals Chuck Aule and Teddy Daniels travel to a secluded island off the coast of Massachusetts to search for an escaped psychiatric patient, and uncover a web of deception along the way.

Finding the right pot to suit your perfect garden

If your terracotta pots took a hammering over the winter months and you ended up with a pile of crocks from broken, frost-damaged containers, it may be time to invest in a new batch.

Manufacturers have made great strides over the years to make stylish pots which will withstand the worst of the weather and still look good.

In recent years, garden centres have been flooded with metal containers in both shiny and matt or weathered finishes, along with synthetic pots made from moulded resins which look like granite, stone or terracotta and won't cost you an arm and a leg.

There are pros and cons for all pots. If you go for unglazed clay, the pots will be porous and therefore plant-friendly, carrying air

by Hannah Stephenson

to the plant roots.

They are also heavy, thus keeping large or top heavy plantings stable.

However, unglazed terracotta absorbs water from the planting compost, so the plants will need watering more frequently and, as many of you will have discovered after the snow, will crack and break in frosty weather unless they are protected from the elements.

Metal pots – zinc and titanium are now popular – look great in contemporary settings, with their sharp lines and eye-catching sparkle, but they don't do well in sunny situations as the containers quickly heat up and can damage the roots of the plants. You can, however, get around the problem by placing the plant in a different container and then putting that inside the metal one, adding damp compost or shredded bark into the metal pot, which will then act as insulation against the heat.

Natural wood planters are widely available in soft and hardwoods and blend well with plant material. They are not affected by frost and are light and relatively inexpensive. Look at sets of barrel shaped planters, such as a bargain set of four for £29.99 from www.greenfingers.com (0845 345 0728). The disadvantage of wood is that if it is left untreated, the life of the container will be short.

They will last longer if you line them with thick plastic sheeting.

Many gardeners would baulk at the thought of buying a plastic pot, but today there are many good ones out there which really don't look plastic and you can paint the pot with a metallic finish to give it a contemporary feel. Plastic is light, cheap and you can drill as many drainage holes as you like.

Good options include Sankey's range of recycled plastic pots which look like granite (for information phone (01159) 277 335 or visit www.rsankey.com).

The disadvantage is that over time many plastic containers go brittle, especially if placed in direct sun, and the roots have little protection from winter cold.

A more convincing fake is resin, which is also light but can look like stone, granite or terracotta and is resistant to frost and heat. For me, it's probably the best option if you want a good look but don't want the hassle of having to lift heavy stone or terracotta containers.

For those with

Don't go potty: when there's a wide range of pots available to suit your garden's needs.

contemporary tastes, fake metal is also available.

Check out faux aluminium Geo pots at www.crocus.co.uk in a variety of shapes, which are made of fibreglass and resin, are lightweight, low-maintenance and frost-proof.

Ask for drill holes to be made when you place your order.

So don't feel too bad about ditching your frost-damaged pots because there are plenty of stylish options out there to replace them.

ASX: 'Best of every world'.

Mitsubishi ASX will be priced from £14,999

MITSUBISHI'S new Active Sports Crossover (ASX), designed to compete in the expanding crossover marketplace against rivals like Nissan's Qashqai, will be priced from £14,999 to £22,049 when it is launched on July 1.

"We're targeting customers who would traditionally buy a C-segment car, such as the VW Golf and Ford Focus," says Mitsubishi's managing director Lance Bradley, "but also people looking to down-size from their SUV or family estate car. With the ASX you really do get the best of every world."

"It's a game-changer for us, which could easily become a new 'hero' vehicle for the brand and heralds the advent of our new 'Intelligent Motion' philosophy."

The ASX is available with either a 1.6-litre 115bhp petrol unit or a 1.8 DiD turbodiesel offering 147bhp.

Standard equipment on all includes alloy wheels, air conditioning, Automatic Stop & Go, Active Stability Control and Traction Control, aux-in jack, keyless entry, ABS with EBD and Brake Assist, dual stage front side and curtain airbags, driver's knee airbag, tilt and telescopic steering column.

Next up is the ASX 3, which gains fully automatic aircon, one touch starting, cruise control, heated seats, privacy glass, audio wheel controls, Bluetooth, leather covered steering wheel and shift knob, automatic lights and windscreens, wipers, chrome exterior detailing.

The top-spec ASX 4 gains

The Mitsubishi ASX: Active Sports Crossover will take on Nissan's Qashqai.

leather seats and Kenwood in-car entertainment incorporating iPod control, sat-nav and a reversing camera.

The ASX 1.6 has a top speed of 113mph and a 0-60 time of 11.4 seconds, while the top-spec ASX 1.8 DiD 4x4 has a top speed of 123mph and a 0-60mph time of 10.0 seconds.

Jaguar XJ arrives in region

The Jaguar XJ: Now available at Marshall Jaguar. Pictures: Keith Jones

THE Jaguar XJ is now on sale at Marshall Jaguar.

The latest in a long line of superb luxury saloons was launched earlier this year and has been acclaimed as the most sophisticated Jaguar to date.

Dealer principal, Peter Muffett, said: "The new XJ is a thoroughly modern interpretation of the quintessential Jaguar and we are very excited about its arrival."

Building on the success of the XK and XF models, the company's newest four-door flagship extends the appeal of the XJ to a new generation of customers.

Standard and long-wheelbase models are available and the long-wheelbase offers an even more sumptuous and refined environment for rear-seat passengers with an additional 125mm of legroom. Whichever the wheelbase, the XJ's 520-litre boot can swallow two large suitcases side-by-side.

Inside the car, advanced new technologies have allowed Jaguar's designers to create an environment more akin to a state-of-the-art living space than a simple car cabin. Premium surround sound options include the top-of-the-range 1200W Bowers & Wilkins system, which is comparable in audio quality to the best in-home entertainment.

The all-new XJ's cabin is a marvel in its own right, blending elegant, contemporary design with the comfort, luxury and unmistakable sporting style of a Jaguar. Chrome and piano black detailing provide an eye-catching contrast to the beautifully-crafted leather and veneer surfaces.

To complement the all-new cabin design is a level of choice in colours, veneers and leathers not seen before in a Jaguar.

Prices start at £29,900 for the XJ 3.0 V6 Luxury and peak at £91,000 for the XJ 5.0 V8 Supersport LWB.

For further details call Marshall Jaguar on (01223) 377000.

Audi puts prices up 2 per cent

WITH effect from Tuesday, May 25, retail prices for most models within the UK Audi range will increase as a result of prevailing currency exchange rates. Their impact has necessitated an average rise of around 2 per cent, which in some cases will be partially offset by specification improvements.

New customer orders placed up to, and including, May 24 will be fixed at currently advertised 2010 Model Year prices.

Among the core models in the Audi range, the three-door A3 and five-door A3 Sportback hatchbacks are subject to an increase of 1.9 per cent, the A4 Saloon and Avant rise by 2.4 per cent (in SE form) and the A6 Saloon and Avant by 2 per cent. A5 Sportback, Coupe and Cabriolet models increase by 2.5 per cent, 2.4 per cent and 2.2 per cent, Q5 and Q7 by 2 per cent and 0.6 per cent, TT Coupe and Roadster by 0.9 per cent and R8 V8 and V10 by 3 per cent.

Horseheath rocked by Hurford ton

PAST masters Horseheath were left dazed by Saffron Walden as the Adams Harrison Midweek League new boys made a stunning debut.

The night belonged to Walden batsman Nick Hurford, who hammered the first century of the season – a belligerent 106 – in the visitors' 178 for 7 and then took 3 for 13 as Horseheath were skittled for 70 in the Division One game.

Joe Barrs also took 3 for 13 to add to his innings of 33.

Champions Sawston extended their unbeaten record with Jason Metson (47) and Evan Gard (42 not out) helping them see off Weston Colville while Simon Youngs (3 for 13) and Stuart Ketteridge (3 for 19) set up joint leaders Haverhill for a comfortable win at Babraham.

However, in Division 3A, Nathan Poole must be wondering what he has to do to be on the winning side after slamming 90 runs in Hundon II's 143 for 5 and then taking 4 for 5 only to see Wrattting Lions get to 151 for 8.

Division One: Sawston 115 for 5 Weston Colville 112 for 6, Horseheath 70 Saffron Walden 178 for 7, Babraham 77 for 7 Haverhill 80.

Division Two: Mill Green 99 for 6 Abington 100 for 4, Ashdon 55 Hundon 61, Long Melford 116 for 1 (Stuart Whiteheart 59 not out) Manor 114 for 4 (Ben Piper 41 not out, Jason Ketteridge 27).

Division 3A: Haverhill II 128 for 4 (Steve Taylor 65, Martyn Wilkins 4 for 22, Steve Taylor 65) Gt Yeldham 129 for 4 (Will Bryant 73 not out, Dan Hodge 29), Hundon II 143 for 5 Wrattting Lions 151 for 8, Gestingthorpe 110 for 1 Highpoint 105 for 8 (Luke Clayton 62).

Division 3B: Abington II 84 for 7 Helions Bumpstead 88 for 4 (Justin Rose 49, Bradley Richardson 4 for 17), Linton 110 for 6 (Gavin Bowie 41) Babraham II 108 for 7.

West Wrattting 3 Soham Utd 1
Cambridge and District Colts League, under-13C

EARLE Lambert scored all West Wrattting's goals as they wrapped up the divisional title against a strong Soham side.

The visitors, in fact, took the lead in the opening 10 minutes against the Qualitape UK-backed side, but Lambert pounced on the loose ball after Jack Payne's penalty was saved for half time.

He then put Wrattting ahead after good work from Mark Coulson and Chris Elliott and completed his hat-trick by rounding off a move featuring Lewis Massie, George Sheath and Harvey Scotton.

Sawston Utd 1 Castle Camps 5
Cambridge and District Colts League, under-11A

CAMPS did all the hard work in the first half, scoring three goals to give themselves a firm foothold in the match.

Kane Robson headed the opener, Calum Henderson fired in the second and Owen Thompson put them in charge with the third.

And although Sawston pulled one goal back, and then hit post and bar, Thompson steadied the ship with his second of the game and Finlay Fletcher wrapped it up.

Castle Camps 2 Taversham 3
Cambridge and District Colts League, under-11A

FINLAY Fletcher gave Camps the ideal start to a game where they eventually suffered because of missed chances and an inspired goalkeeper.

Fletcher struck again at the start of the second half, but Taversham equalised with a fine free kick and then sealed victory five minutes from time.

Haverhill Rov 1 Fulbourn Inst 0
Cambridge and District Colts League, under-11

ALTHOUGH the scoreline shows a close game, Haverhill should have run out convincing winners.

They had several chances to break the deadlock before Kai Farrant rammed home Charlie Stephens' cross from close range.

And with Fulbourn failing to pierce the Rovers' rearguard, all the action was at the other end of the pitch with further chances going begging.

Plantation 1 Thurlow 2

Cams Mini League, under-nines

THURLOW had to soak up a lot of pressure before they clinched victory. With the wind in their faces and playing up hill, the visitors had to withstand a first-half battering from Plantation's long-ball tactics.

The defence, with Jack Edwards and keeper Toby Egan in good form, held firm until one goal slipped through.

However, Finlay Dray's long-range scorcher and an own goal sealed a hard-earned win.

That's just the Pits

ANY hopes Haverhill had of salvaging something from a wet weekend were wrecked by the bludgeoning bat of Woolpit's South African professional Andy Northcote.

With the two Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship sides left redundant by Saturday's rain, hopes of a positive result rested with the Hunts County Bat Suffolk League teams the following day.

Both played Woolpit – and both suffered.

The first team were put to the sword by Northcote, who hammered 180 to help his side post a formidable 306 in their Division One clash.

With opening partner Whiteman (37), he put on 99 before the drinks break and then proceeded to take the Haverhill attack apart, reaching 150 with the score on 223 for 1.

Skipper Joe Woodley finally got both Northcote and Parker (37) to finish with 10-0-57-2.

Debut-making youngster Sam Pass impressed with his fielding and leg spin, but Haverhill could not follow his example.

They made a poor start to their reply and although Dave Godwin (28) and Daniel Poole (42) got the innings back on track, their middle order stuttered and Woodley's 43, helped by late flourishes from Dean Sharpe and Joey Kettle helped Haverhill to 171, 135 runs short.

Haverhill II's were skittled out for 97 in their Suffolk League, Division Four clash against Woolpit Academy, with only the reliable Paul Spurling (28) and Tom Saville (23 not out) putting together worthwhile innings.

Andy Newcombe propelled Woolpit to a six-wicket win with 53, a knock that was ended by a fine catch from Tom Saville.

On Saturday Haverhill are at home to Hadleigh in Division Two of the Two Counties Championship (1pm) while the seconds travel to Felixstowe II.

On Sunday the first team go to Acton while the seconds entertain Horringer (1.30pm).
